Tips for Finding the Best PERSONAL INJURY LAWYER

Do Your Homework

There was a 1.7% growth in personal injury lawyers and attorneys in America in 2022. You need the right attorney for your case. Look for a quality lawyer with experience -- look for referrals and testimonials.

Read Past Client Reviews

Read Past Client Reviews: Check Google and Yelp reviews and go with an attorney who is highly rated. Read many individual reviews about the attorney. What do your attorney's past clients say about them? Do they have raving fans, or poor online reviews?

Look into their Track Record

Does your attorney have experience winning large cases? Look at the attorney's website in the results section and select an attorney who has won a large number of big cases. Lawyers with experience handling large cases make all the difference.

Look for Someone You Trust

You need someone who makes you feel heard and understood. Empathy is crucial. Look for an attorney who puts the client first and has your best interests at heart.

Check their Resources

Understand what tools and options your attorney has available to get the best result in your case. What do they do differently? What resources do they have at their disposal to ensure maximum value for your injury or death claim.
